Auto Dealerships

Protect your dealership, your reputation and the environment.

If you are responsible for environmental health and safety, then let the environmental professionals at Safety-Kleen help shoulder that responsibility. Our services can be tailored to the unique needs of your dealership, while still ensuring you're in full compliance with all local, state, provincial and federal regulations. Our practices provide the highest level of risk reduction in the industry, backed by our Certificate of Assurance and Indemnification.

We take financial responsibility for the waste we manage for you, protecting you from future liability and giving you the peace of mind of knowing that your employees, customers and the community are protected.

Choices that keep your facility clean.

Your dealership needs sustainable choices. When you manage a dealership, surprises are the last thing you need. Let the environmental professionals at Safety-Kleen show you how to reduce regulatory risk and keep your bays clean and efficient. More than 17,000 dealerships rely on us to eliminate overflows, clean brakes and parts, contain their drums and keep the shop clean with durable absorbents.

Used Oil, Oil Filter Collection and Lubricants Everything you need for complete oil management.

- Proper regulatory documentation showing your used oil is being handled in compliance.
- Customized used oil pick-up schedules, along with emergency overflow response.
- Collection of bulk oil filters using a patented process that gives you less hassles and takes up less space.
- Lubricants that deliver superior quality and unmatched performance. Performance Plus® products have been tested and trusted and are the oil of choice for Roush Fenway Racing and several large government and commercial fleets, including our own.

Safety-Kleen is the world leader in oil collection and the use of oils as a renewable resource through our proprietary re-refining process. Through this unique closed-loop system, we have redefined customer value.
